Salary Said to Be $10,000 for Campaign in the West-Turf War Still Brewing -Boston Americans Will Not Play Spring Series for World's Championship

Tod Sloan will ride in this country after all. The famous jockey has apparently siven up hope of being reinstated by the backers of Kittle Platt, she stumbled shortly by the Supreme Court of France in his favor. and has signed a contract to ride this season for Edward Corrigan, the "Master of Haw-thorne," who will probably head a revolution-ary organization of tracks in a war against the Western Jockey Club. Sloan has been spend-ing a short vacation at Los Angeles, but he turned up in Chicago on Wednesday and after Jockey Nicol rode four winners, including a consultation with one of Corrigan's right a 25 to 1 shot, and his riding was the feature earning $50,000 a year, so that this new engagement will be something of a come-lown, finish third.

although Sloan at present needs the money.
It has turned out that the recent verdict in his favor in the French courts amounted merely covered the costs. For that reason and also because the English Jockey Club also stood in the way of his reinstatement on the Eastern tracks, Sloan evidently came to the conclusion that an offer which Corrigan made to him several weeks ago was worthy of consideration. When Sloan appears in a Corrigan silk jacket, therefore, it vill be his first appearance in the saddle on an American racetrack since he rode the late W. C. Whitney's Ballyhoo Bey to victory in the Futurity of 1900. Mr. Whitney brought him here from England expressly for this race, paying all expenses and handing him a handsome sum for his services after the race. Since then Sloan has had his troubles. In signing to ride in the West, Sloan has re-ceived assurance that he will get a license from the Western Jockey Club if there is no war, for that body has never recognized the rulings of the English and French Jockey clubs, the Reiffs, Milton Henry and other boys who got into difficulty abroad having been allowed to ride just the same on the Western tracks afterward. In the event of a split in the Western Jockey Club, Sloan will have the protection of Corrigan, so that Western tracks afterward. In the event of a split in the Western Jockey Club, Sloan will have the protection of Corrigan, so that he cannot lose whichever way the wind blows. In the meantime the jockey hopes that the English turf authorities will raise the ban against him so that some day he will be allowed to ride again in the East. Last summer when he was exercising horses at the local tracks he said he could tip the scales at 100 pounds and that he was able to jump into silks and the saddle at a day's notice. Corrigan has a powerful racing stable and Sloan will fit

Corrigan, by the way, is not in a hurry to declare war against the Western Jockey Club. He says that he must first communicate with various track owners who are known to be with him. When all the wires have been worked, a special meeting of the revolutionists will be called to take formal action. Corrigan has paid $187,300 to Richard Fitzgerald for a three-fourths interest in the Hawthorne track, which would seem to indicate that he is ready for business. The recent sale of the Union Park track in St. recent sale of the Union Park track in St. Louis has been set aside by the courts, and the plant will be put up at auction again, when friends of Corrigan are expected to make a bid for it. Capt. R. R. Rice, a bitter enemy of the Western Jockey Club, says that a bill will be introduced soon in the Arkansas Legislature creating a racing commission of three members for the State, to be appointed by the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Attorney-General, and that the sport will be conducted on the lines prevailing in the State of New York. If such a bill becomes a law there may be trouble for John Condon's Oaklawn track at Hot Borings, which is a Western Jockey Club ally.

Gov. Higgins in an interview is quoted as saying that August Belmont will remain chairman of the State Racing Commission. It had been repeatedly asserted that the Odell machine would attempt to remove Mr. Belmont and substitute Clarence H.

by the bookmaker, with the owner last.

President John I. Taylor of the Boston Americans throws a wet blanket on the absurd talk of a world's series in the spring between his players and the New York Nationals. Taylor says that the Bostons gave the New York came to play for the world's championship last fall and that the challenge was quickly ignored, in spite of public opinion. He declares that the spring is not the proper time for such an important series, innanuch as ball players at that time of the year are overweight, with few of them taking chances with their arms. The Boston team has already made arrangements to take a long Southern trip, said Taylor yesterday, "and it will not be abandoned for any such wildcat scheme If we win the American League pennant we will be ready to meet anybody for the world's championship next fall, under the rules to be laid down by the National Commission. Following the policy of "shrewd polities" prevailing in the National League just now, it will not be surprising, in view of Taylor's stand, if the New York Nationals Issue a formal challenge to play in the spring e series that they had no use for last October.

A. G. Snalding has written an interesting

A. G. Spalding has written an inferesting gtory in the Association Seminar on "The Origin and Early History of Baseball." Mr. Spalding says that baseball is distinctly an American sport and that it was first played in this city in 1842. From that year he gives a detailed account of the growth of the sport, and, among other things, says that, while Henry Chadwick is called the father of the same, William A. Hulbert, the first president of the Sport because of his notion in blacklisting the men who were convicted of crooked playing.

Outfielder Gessler wants his release from the Brooklyn citib. He says he would like to play with the Pittsburg team. Manager Hanlon was willing to trade Gessler to the Chicago Nationals last summer, but Frank Selee could not see it that way. Gessler is a good hitter and a fair fielder, and might be a star with the former National League champions.

James Britt broke into the fighting game about the same way as did Jim Corbett and Joe Choynski. When Britt was attending school his classmates did not fancy the attire of the young man and proceeded to make things generally unpleasant for him. One day Britt wiped up the street with several of his assailants in such complete manner that his friends thought it was the proper time to make a fighter out of him. Shorth afterward, therefore, James appeared at an amatter show in Srisco and won a medal.

Nothing has been heard from Jim Corbett since Robert Fitzsimmons declared that he would fight him again for $5.000 a side. Corbett and Fitz, because of the ill feeling between them, would probably put up an interesting fight. Fitz has never forzotten the slurs and insults heard upon him by Corbett when the latter was the heavyweight champion and the Cornishman had the nerve to challenge him. As Corbett maintained that he should have won his fight with Fitz on a fool, and has always had nothing but adverse criticism for the freekied fighter, ring followers are at a loss to know why the pompadour gentleman has not jumped at a change to sounce and accounts. Corbett has repentedly called Fitz a "hack number" and an old "has been and has been anoted as saying that he would not fight anybody but Champion Jeffres. But Fitz, in spite of his age stands ready to mix it up with Corbett of the earliest operating with corbett keen an eye open for the solar plexus wallop that put him away at Carson City?

RACING AT NEW ORLEANS. Ascot Belle Beats Kittle Platt-Nicol Rides Four Winners.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 5 .- At the Fair Grounds this afternoon the fields were made up of ordinary material and a cold, drizzling rain set in and greatly decreased the attendance About the best race of the afternoon was the seven furlong sprint. Ascot Belle, from the stable of Capt. S. S. Brown, and Kittle Platt were the only ones that the speculators paid any attention to, and both were well played. Kittle riatt closing a favorite after the start and all but unseated Crimmins. Nicol managed to get Ascot Belle away and

Frank Kelly, the New York horseman, pulled off a clever coup with Lineal, a colt by His Highness, in the second. Any price was good enough for Kelly and the New Yorkers, and when the books laid 7 to 1 they made them rub in a hurry. At post time the best price obtainable was fours. Lineal, after walting on his field until the head of the stretch, came on and won in a romp from light Note, another good thing. James H. Reed, the favorite, finished last, beaten off.

Bir Thomas Dewar, who arrived from England yesterday, is interested in the English turf and has two candidates for this year's Derby, a colt by Isinglass and a filly by Ayrishire. He has a breeding farm in Essex and says that it is useless to try to win on the British tracks unless one has the best horses. He also states that his experience has shown him that the lockey gets the largest share of the money, the trainer coming next, followed by the book maker, with the owner last.

Best wishes for a pleasant voyage across the Atjantic and a good time in the States. Remember me kindly to the many American friends of mine whom I am sure you will meet if you receive a tenth part of the hospitality I experienced at their hands.

You will be killed with kindness. No country in the world can equal America in warmth of welcome and open handed hospitality.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5. Because he took Los Angeles, Jan. 5.—As a result of the money for being wallopped by "Longshore-man Casey in a bout in Mechanics Pavilion warning to Jockey Hildebrand regarding his foul riding at Ascot, a sensation was sprung yesterday afternoon when it was given out that the premier American rider would not be seen in the saddle again this season at the local tracks. People interested in Hildebrand took exception to the ruling of Judge Hamilton and informed the track officials that the key had made his last appearance here. On the top of this came the suspension of Jockey Lawrence. The judges were anything but satisfied with the riding of Lawrence had the mount on Ben Lear last Monday and put up a suspicious ride. Yesterday the horse won with something to COLUMBIA FIVE RETURNS. Basketball Players Complain of Treatment on Trip.

Columbia's basketball players have returned from a successful trip through New England, meeting four strong teams and defeating three of them. The collegians were at a disadvantage in every game, as they played on small courts and with baskets different from those they were used to. In almost every case the home team was outclassed by a bigger margin than the score shows, and but for conditions favoring the team more accustomed to the floor the victories of the Light Blue and White would have been much greater. The first game was played on Dec. 28, at Newport. After two exciting halves the score was a tie at 22 points. In an extra period of 3 minutes Hurley shot the winning goal for Columbia, a sensational basket from the middle of the floor. The next night the collegians defeated Fall River, 18 to 11, and on Dec. 30 met the Fitchburg five, which never had been beaten on its home floor. The Columbia team won by 12 to 18. On New Year's eve the Washington Continen-On New Year's eve the Washington Continentals of Schenectady, the only team that beat Columbia last year, was met. Again the up-Staters were victorious, the score being 17 to 7. The Columbia men were very much upset over this game.

As soon as our opponents saw that we were better on the straight game than they were, they commenced rough tactics. We have a small, light team, but our men answered them in kind when they commenced roughing. That was the best smoke colored, quite apily named, and Mrs. Ashley Church's Messenger as the best silver tabby.

The following won one or more blue ribbons in the regular classes for the cats.

contro-ball billiards. William F. Hoppe, the youthful professional, last night defeated the veteran Edward McLaughlin in the final block of points of their three nights match. The competition was at 18-inch balk line, two counts in balk, and the final score was 300 points for Hoppe to 563 for McLaughlin. Hoppe's grand average for the contest. or Play.

of a few inches in McLaughlin's little academy, Fifty-ninth street near Third avenue, before the match began, and the gathering of spectators was largely composed of bankers and brokers, members of the near by clubs. As he had done on the previous nights, Hoppe was slow in overcoming a stiffness and halting stroke, so that his opening innings failed to produce clusters of any size. For this portion of the contest McLaughlin led the and closely.

Warming up to the game, Hoppe's cue A Report From San Francisco Says Pair
